

Avoid the Grief of Losing Your Pet

No one plans on losing their pet. Your pet's ID will help us contact you if your pet becomes lost. By complying with Hawaii laws that require cats to have identification and dogs to have a license, you can help your missing pet find his way home.

Dog licenses are available at Satellite City Hall.

If your pet has a microchip, remember to keep your information current in our database. If you have moved or changed your phone numbers, call 946-2187 and update your record.

Call Deceased Animal Pickup

It's very difficult to face the possibility that your pet may have been injured or killed, but it may save you the anguish of not knowing your pet's fate. Call the number listed on our website for your area.

About Us

Hawaiian Humane Society shelters, rescues, adopts and welcomes all animals. As an independent, local non-profit organization, we receive no funding from organizations such as HSUS or ASPCA.

Our work to promote the human-animal bond and the humane treatment of all animals is supported largely by donations. To make a gift, visit hawaiianhumane.org.

Hawaiian Humane Society

People for animals. Animals for people.

2700 Waiialae Avenue
Honolulu, HI 96826

Phone: 946-2187
hhs@hawaiianhumane.org
hawaiianhumane.org

If You've Lost Your Pet

Hawaiian Humane Society

People for animals. Animals for people.

Search Your Home Thoroughly

Check all areas that are accessible to your pet. Especially for cats, check inside appliances, under furniture and in drawers and closets.

Canvas the Neighborhood

Look during the day and at night. Injured pets often hide during the day. Check hazardous areas such as open sewers, ditches and vacant lots. Check houses, garages and cars that have been vacated. Lost pets also frequent beaches, parks and other public areas. Tell your neighbors you have lost your pet and ask them to call you if they see the animal.

Tell Us Right Away

Complete a lost report and attach a current photo of your pet. Both lost and found reports may also be filed at hawaiianhumane.org.

Visit the Humane Society Daily

Your pet may arrive here just hours after getting lost. He may also be very frightened or injured, so do not wait a few days before checking with us. Because our interpretation of your animal's description may be different than yours, visiting the shelter is very important.

Advertise

In addition to filing a report and visiting us daily, put a "missing pet" ad in the newspapers and on craigslist, check "found" ads as well. Describe your pet, and give details about when and where it was last seen and where you can be reached.

Call radio stations that air neighborhood information. Post notices in neighborhood markets. Include a description of your pet and, if possible, a picture. Check with veterinarians in your area. Enlist the help of neighbors, the mail carrier and the newspaper delivery person. Talk to children you know who play in the area, and groups that use any nearby parks.

Don't Give Up

Keep looking, especially at the Humane Society. People often keep pets they find for awhile before bringing them to the shelter.

Found!

When you've found your pet, notify us so that we can keep our records current and focus on missing pets. Also take down the signs you've posted and inform neighbors who have helped in your search.

